Dear _____,

I'm sharing my findings on what I believe to be the best grant writing training provider to accomplish our goals of increasing our agency's bottom line in the next few months. After researching, Grant Central USA's Two-Day Workshop is the perfect option. They have been successful in helping their clients in securing over $450 Million in grants.

Grant Central USA has a highly positive reputation among grant professionals and over 500 grant training videos on Youtube. Their past clients include well-known and respected organizations such as United Way, George W. Bush Foundation, Magic Johnson Foundation, YMCA, Boy & Girls Clubs, colleges, universities, and even government agencies like first responders and law enforcement agencies - all of whom were incredibly satisfied with the services they received.

On top of their excellent training program covering all aspects of grant writing (from strategy to implementation), Grant Central USA also offers full support throughout the year in terms of an online resource library with plenty of in-depth training resources, articles, samples, and templates, available for review at any given time.

Plus, they offer monthly Master Classes to ensure everyone is up-to-date with the current best practices in grant writing. After attending the training, I've been informed that we will receive specialized training videos weekly for the first three months to keep us moving in the right direction with additional support.

All of this makes me confident that Grant Central USA's Two-Day Workshop is the right choice for our organization and will yield a great return on our investment.

After the training, I can confidently prepare grant proposals to submit to funders to increase our bottom line positively.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best regards,

P.S. I have attached the class agenda for the two days, along with a few reviews from previous clients. They offer a FREE 30-Minute on-demand webinar at StrategicGrantWriting.com worth watching that explains their successful approach.
